

Ethics committee Annual Report, May 2024-25

Due to their new roles as trustees of the Sufi Order and the potential conflict of interest of holding both roles, the two founding members of the Ethics Committee; Angela Gruber (Tajalli) and Eve Salomon (Munira) resigned this year from the Ethics committee. Not without having ensured us first of their continual assistance and support to the newly formed committee!

The main focus of the Ethics Committee for this year was to encourage new participants to join the committee. To this end we are very fortunate to have three new members who have joined. They are Nicola Haskins, Alexandra Kleinschrod and Sue Ryall (Qalbya). In addition to Selma Smyly (Vayu) who will be continuing for a second year on the committee.

The newly formed committee would like to take this opportunity to thank Tajalli and Munira for the many years of their continued and heartfelt commitment, hard work and inspiring and insightful support in helping us all to uphold the ethical standards of the Inayatiyya. Not only through all their valued teaching input, but also in offering their support to the resolution of potential conflicts arising within the Sufi Order as well as from the different aspects of service we offer.

Our heartfelt gratitude

Ya Shakur

Vayu and Nicola
